On the evening of your arrival, you can settle straight in with a welcome drink and put your feet up while your bags are taken to your rooms. After a quick freshen up, dinner will be served in the restaurant or private dining room, at a time to suit you, following your meal you can retire to one of our bars and let us look after you.

The morning of your activity day will begin when you are collected by the outdoor team and taken to the nearby centre. Perched on the hills above Fleet Bay, you will be hard pushed to find better views anywhere in Scotland.

Your morning session will consist of Archery and Clay Pigeon shooting lessons. Just to add a bit of camaraderie, there will be competitions throughout the activities with prizes being awarded for different categories. All ages and abilities will be catered for.

At lunchtime, we will arrive with your lunch – but not too much because your afternoon of Mountain biking is about to take place!

Because your safety is paramount, you will begin by tackling a skills course so that your abilities can be assessed and you can be taught new techniques.

Once this is complete, you will be led by expert guides along some of the best mountain biking tracks, known as the Seven Stanes. Bike hire, helmets and tuition will all be provided and different routes are available dependant on how brave you are feeling.

At the end of your exhilarating day, you will be dropped back at the hotel, in time for a drink at the bar an ideal opportunity to reflect on your experiences from the day (and boast about your performance) before enjoying another delicious dinner in our restaurant.
